

Un fund
News - E

Notebooks? Check. Pencils? Check. $8.1 million

Florida Gulf Coast University is starting the new school year with $8.1 million in performance-based funding from the Florida Department of Education.

Provost Ronald Toll is not surprised by the funding.

“This University has never been afraid of moving into a new era of performance-based funding for higher education in Florida.”
ff U

09

r

graduate within six years, percentage of graduates who continue their education or become employed in the state of Florida and the cost of an undergraduate degree.

Each University was allowed to pick its own 10th metr